PERSONALIZED LEARNING

We believe that when students take charge of their own education, they can make great strides toward developing creative and critical thinking. These skills are nurtured by individual relationships with mentor teachers who assist the students in developing meaningful courses of study while ensuring high academic standards following Socratic principles.

ENRICHMENT OUTREACH

Through the delivery of enrichment programs, community outreach, parent workshops, career counseling, and alumni mentorship we strive to provide a virtual environment that nurtures the individual curiosity and creativity of our students.

INDEPENDENT LEARNER

The Alexandria Academy has found great success with a wide variety of students. Some have come from the entertainment industry, from athletics, music, dance, and writing. We have more recently been sought to educate students who are having trouble learning in the traditional atmosphere and look for alternative education opportunities. We work with any child to help him/her reach full natural potential.

SUCCESS STORY

An 8-year old student excelled in math. Through our program and our ability to work with her family, she was able to take a calculus course at her local community college and received a grade of "A".

She continued her studies with us as well as taking college courses. She graduated from high school at age 11.
